CANADA INCREASING ACCOMMODATION FOR MILITARY AIRPLANES

Hangars, Seaplane Wharf and Slipway and Torpedo Repair Building to Be Erected at Patricia Bay—Construction Planned at Three Nova Scotia Centres

OTTAWA, Oct. 6 (CP).—Canada is planning to increase accommodation for military airplanes on both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, extend winter training facilities at Camp Borden and build a new wireless station at Point Grey, Vancouver, it was disclosed tonight in the current issue of The Canada Gazette.

The Gazette, the Government's official publication, carried announcements by the Defence Purchasing Board concerning tenders to be let for various military projects in several parts of the Dominion.

At three points on Nova Scotia's coast additional accommodation is to be provided for Royal Canadian Air Force warplanes. Tenders have been called for seaplane hangars and three landplane hangars at Dartmouth. Sydney will get two landplane hangars and Yarmouth three landplane hangars.

At Saint John a landplane hangar is planned for the Air Force.

Additional accommodation for landplanes is to be provided by two hangars at Patricia Bay, B.C. Here also will be built an apron, slipway and wharf for R.C.A.F. seaplanes and a torpedo repair and maintenance building.

For the Point Grey wireless station tenders are being called for an operating station, living quarters, steel masts, roads and fences.

FOR WINTER TRAINING

It was made known that fuller use is to be made by winter training facilities at the Camp Borden, Ont., station of the R.C.A.F., and tenders are being called for the steam heating of hangars.

At the Petawawa military reserve tenders are being called for construction of wood huts at Central Lake, in the heart of the 100-square-mile reserve.

Will Command First Overseas Division

MAJOR-GENERAL A. G. L. McNAUGHTON, President of the National Research Council, and former Chief of the General Staff, has been named to command the First Canadian Overseas Division.

PROVINCE WILL RETAIN BOARDS

Marketing Groups Expected to Work With Wartime Production Committee

"British Columbia will retain fruit, vegetable and other commodity boards, at least for the present until we see what Ottawa wishes us to do," Hon. Dr. K. C. MacDonald said yesterday. "There is no reason why the commodity boards should not be the greatest assistance in co-ordinating the production of British Columbia agriculture," the Minister of Agriculture declared.

As the Provincial Government sees it, there will be no conflict between the Province's peacetime setup of commodity boards and control areas for domestic consumption, and the stimulation and co-ordination of export production under the new Provincial committee on agriculture.

COMMITTEE MEETING

The new Provincial committee on production will meet on Tuesday morning, to consider a report by J. B. Munro, deputy minister of agriculture, who returned yesterday from a national conference on agriculture, opened at Ottawa by Hon. J. C. Gardiner.

Mr. Munro reported uniformity of aims throughout all provinces in developing the most Canada has to offer to the Allied cause in connection with food supplies. In British Columbia, he said, the question was one largely of keeping up present efforts, and replacing domestic imports by home production, assisting thereby in creating national surpluses for export use.

Since September British Columbia has been active in surveying its own field, and would proceed now through the new committee to co-operate with the Federal programme at all points, Mr. Munro said.

Chinese Report Key City Taken

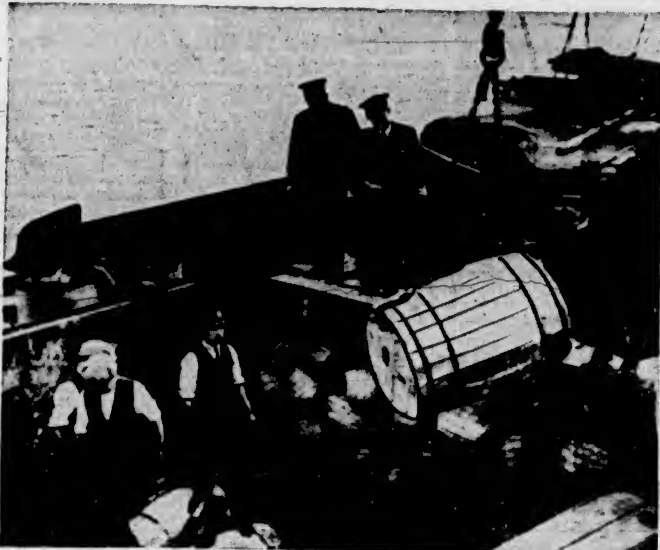

CHUNGKING, Oct. 6 (CP-Havas).—Chinese troops, hammering retreating Japanese forces in Northern Hunan, today were reported to have captured the key city of Pingliang, fifty miles to the northeast of Changsha.

Chinese army officials claimed 6,000 Japanese bodies had been counted on Hunan battlefields in the last three weeks and put the total of Japanese killed and wounded at about 80,000.

France Loses No Time in Rejecting German Proposal

Daladier Says War Will Be Fought to Victory—Must Be Assured That Europe Will Have Lasting Peace—Allied Military Heads Confer on Plans

PARIS, Oct. 6 (CP).—Premier Daladier tonight gave France's answer to Adolf Hitler's peace proposals with a blunt declaration the European war would be fought until "the victory which alone will permit assurance of a regime of real justice and lasting peace in Europe."

Only two hours after Hitler outlined his peace formula in his speech before the Reichstag, Daladier pounded out the assertion to the French Senatorial Foreign Affairs committee that:

"France and Great Britain will never lay down their arms until that peace has been effectively assured."

LEADERS CONFER

As though to give emphasis to the French-British determination to fight, General Maurice Gustave Gamelin, commander-in-chief of the French Army, conferred today with Major-General Sir Edmund Ironside, chief of the British Imperial Defence Staff.

They were accompanied by their air commanders as well as Major-General Sir John Dill.

HAVE EYES ON PORT OF MEMEL

ROME, Oct. 6 (CP-Havas).—Hints that Soviet Russia may make claims on the Nazi-held port of Memel and predictions that Soviet-German friction is in the offing were thrown out by the Italian press tonight as newspapers commented uneasily on increasing Russian pressure in the Baltic.

A special correspondent of the newspaper La Stampa wrote from Tallinn, Estonia:

"Germany cannot view with indifference Russia's action on territories and zones of influence—such as Lithuania—which are so close to its western borders."

BENES IN PARIS

PARIS, Oct. 6 (CP).—Former President Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia arrived in Paris from London tonight and was expected to confer with officials of both the French and Polish Governments on what diplomatic circles reported would be an effort to establish a Czechoslovak Government in exile, similar to that of Poland.

MADE HEAD OF DIVISION

Major-General McNaughton Named to Command Canada's Overseas Force

OTTAWA, Oct. 6 (CP).—Major-General A. G. L. McNaughton, president of the National Research Council and former chief of the general staff, will command the First Canadian Division of the Canadian Active Service Force, it was announced tonight by the National Defence Department.

Major-General McNaughton, an officer with outstanding military qualifications and long experience, temporarily relieved from the active list of the Canadian militia when appointed president of the Research Council, June 1, 1935.

Major-General McNaughton, an officer with outstanding military qualifications and long experience, temporarily relieved from the active list of the Canadian militia when appointed president of the Research Council, June 1, 1935.

As commander of the First Division, military sources here said it would be logical to assume General McNaughton might become commander of the Canadian Corps if other divisions are sent overseas.

NOTABLE RECORD

After achieving a notable record as an artillery officer in the first Great War, rising from lieutenant to brigadier-general, Major-General McNaughton was appointed to the permanent active militia, January 1, 1920, and held a series of senior staff appointments.

From 1920 to the end of 1922 he was director of military training and staff duties at defence headquarters here. For four years he was deputy chief of the general staff and chief of the general staff from January 1, 1929, to May 31, 1935, when he became president of the National Research Council.

MADE DEPUTY CHIEF OF IMPERIAL STAFF

LONDON, Oct. 6 (AP).—Appointment of Major-General Philip Neame as deputy chief of the Imperial General Staff was announced tonight.

Major-General Neame won the Victoria Cross in the first Great War. He is fifty.

British Government Willing to Examine Suggestions, but Not "In Their Present Form"—More Than German Words Required to Establish Confidence in Reich Government

German Chancellor Tells Reichstag of Peace Offer

LONDON, Oct. 6 (CP).—Adolf Hitler was reported tonight to be preparing to supplement and amplify his peace proposals by diplomatic approaches to Great Britain and France through some neutral channel such as United States or Swiss Governments.

A few hours after the German leader outlined terms on which he would be willing to lay down arms the British Government issued a statement plainly indicating they are unacceptable "in their present form." Use of this phrase lent strength to reports Hitler intended to follow them up with more detailed suggestions.

It was made plain, however, that Hitler's terms will be "carefully examined (by the British Government) in consultation with the governments of the Dominions and the French Republic."

TEXT OF BRITISH STATEMENT

The text of the British statement on Hitler's speech follows:

"Herr Hitler's Reichstag speech in its full text was only available in London in the course of the afternoon and it has therefore not been possible to give it more than a preliminary examination.

"The speech is divided into two parts. The first, which is mainly a survey of past events, abounds in perversions of the truth which will be readily recognized by the people of this country and indeed of the whole world. Thus the claim that humane methods of warfare have been employed in Poland has been refuted by statements in Parliament and by the report of the United States ambassador in Warsaw.

WORDS HAVE DIFFERENT MEANING

"The world has already formed its own judgment about the alleged request of the Czechs to be incorporated in the Reich, while Herr Hitler's statement that he has never broken his promise only shows that words have for him a meaning totally different from that commonly attached to them.

"Herr Hitler says that in the year 1938 an Englishman spoke of the cruelty and moral licentiousness of the Poles and claims that recent events show that the Polish state was lacking in any national, historic, cultural or moral foundation.

"This was not Herr Hitler's view when he said in his Reichstag speech on May 21, 1935, 'we recognize the Polish state as the home of a great patriotic nation with the understanding and cordial friendship of avowed nationalists.'

CAUSE FOR 'MISAPPREHENSION'

"In a further passage, Herr Hitler complains that 'for many years aims have been attributed to German foreign policy which at best might have been expected from the imagination of a schoolboy.'

"If misapprehension there has been it can only be attributed to Herr Hitler's open aspirations for world domination in 'Mein Kampf,' to his utterances since he came into power and still more to his acts.

Board to Act As Agent for Arms Mission

OTTAWA, Oct. 6 (CP).—Canada's War Supply Board has been made Canadian agent for the British Government's purchasing mission, now here for placing of munitions and war supply contracts, the Dominion Government announced today.

Under the authority of an order in council, the board will place orders in Canada for supplies required by the British Ministries of Supply and Defence.

"Finally the repeated suggestions that Great Britain is responsible for the war have no foundation in fact. On the contrary, the efforts of His Majesty's Government to preserve peace during the successive crises brought about by Germany during the last two years are well known and recognized by the whole world.

VAGUE AND OBSCURE

"The second half of the speech contains what Herr Hitler describes as a few more proposals for peace. In their present form these proposals are in many respects vague and obscure, but it is noted that they contain no suggestion for reparation for the wrongs done by Germany to other peoples.

"Nevertheless they will, as has been declared by the Prime Minister and the Foreign Secretary, be subjected to careful examination in consultation with the Governments of the Dominions and the French Republic.

"But it is necessary to remember two things: First, that no peace proposals are likely to be found acceptable."

Half Year of Peril Ends in Safe Haven Of Quatsino Sound

Sighting of Land Saves Cat and Dog From Cooking-Pot—Pirates and Typhoons Included in Story of Voyage

QUATSINO, B.C., Oct. 6 (CP).—The story of a six-months' battle with the sea, pirates and near-starvation was told today by the skipper of a Chinese junk which finally found safe haven at this Vancouver Island West Coast settlement.

From the deck of his fifty-foot plies by the United States coast guard, the vessel was discovered.

They arrived here yesterday, completing their perilous voyage across the Pacific where another adventurer is believed to have perished, Richard Halliburton, noted author, and his crew are believed to have lost their lives attempting a similar voyage in a junk to North America.

"We left Shanghai April 7 with a Chinese crew," related Captain Anderson. "The crew became seasick and the sails were improperly handled but we managed to return for a Norwegian crew and left again April 22. We were attacked by pirates on the Yangtze River and made for the Japanese coast. Our days later were given food and supplies by the United States coast guard."

Captain Anderson had ordered a dog and cat aboard killed to supplement the meagre rations on September 29 but the next day they sighted the Queen Charlotte Islands, north of Vancouver Island, and four days later were given food and supplies by the United States coast guard."

MAY HAVE TEST VOTE ON MONDAY

Two More Senators Join Supporters of United States Arms Embargo Repeal

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (CP).—The Senate leadership, confident of winning, today tentatively decided to force a test vote on Monday on the Roosevelt Administration's Neutrality Bill by demanding a vote on the motion of Senator Tobey (Republican-New Hampshire) to send the bill back to the Foreign Relations Committee to be split into two parts.

Under the "Tobey proposal" one part would carry out President Roosevelt's recommendation for repeal of the present arms embargo. The other would embody restrictions on United States shipping and travel to belligerent zones.

While debate on the neutrality legislation continued, the Administration picked up two new sponsors for repeal of the embargo, Senators Bailey (Democrat-North Carolina) and Barbour (Republican-New Jersey) joined the repeal camp.

able which do not effectively free Europe from the menace of aggression, and second, that assurances given by the German Government in the past have on so many occasions proved worthless that something more than words will be required today to establish the conflict which must be the essential basis of peace.

TO MAKE STATEMENT

Prime Minister Chamberlain will make a statement to the House of Commons next week, but it may not be until the middle of the week, because of consultations with other Governments, which will begin at once.

Meanwhile, there were no outward signs that Great Britain was relaxing her war efforts. The Ministry of Information announced dispatch of British forces to France is proceeding day and night "without hitch or casualty."

The successful manner in which this operation is being carried out will be outlined by Leslie Hore-Belisha, War Secretary, in his review in the House of Commons next Thursday.

It was announced that war correspondents are being assigned to the British expeditionary forces and would start sending dispatches in a few days.

INCREASED EFFICIENCY

Naval circles reported the convoy system is working with increased efficiency, merchantmen docking safely from every part of the world. Since the convoy system was perfected ten days ago not one escorted ship has been lost, although one British ship, the 876-ton Glen Farg, was reported sunk by a submarine today.

The Treasury disclosed the £5,000,000 ($22,235,000) they agreed to lend Poland for war purposes was still in this country and would be used in Britain's prosecution of the conflict.

HITLER'S ADDRESS

BERLIN, Oct. 6 (AP).—Adolf Hitler today offered peace in Europe or a fight in which "I do not doubt for a single moment that Germany will be victorious."

"Let those who consider war to be the better solution reject my outstretched hand," he said. Authoritative sources indicated he expects an answer in less than a week.

Outlining his position in an address of one hour and twenty minutes before the Reichstag in the Kroll Opera House, the Fuehrer envisioned a conference of European nations to insure peace in the future.

"Why should this war in the West be fought?" he asked.

"For restoration of Poland, Poland of the Versailles Treaty will never rise again."

Soviet Russia and Germany exclusively, he said, would solve the problems of "final reorganization" and "the question of re-establishment of the Polish state."

He kept his hearers guessing as to how a "Polish state" would be formed in the part of Poland allocated to Germany, except to say it would be "so constituted and governed as to prevent its becoming once again either a hotbed of anti-German activity or a centre of intrigue against Germany and Russia."

THE GERMAN REGIME

Hitler further asked whether the war in the West should be fought to give Germany a new regime.

"The millions of human lives will be sacrificed in vain," he said, "for neither will the German Reich go to pieces nor will a second Treaty of Versailles be made."

Continuing, he warned: "Can anyone should this come to pass after three, four or even eight years of war, then this second Versailles would once more become the source of fresh conflict in the future."

Instead he called for a conference, the aim of which would be establishment of European security.

Should the reaction be favorable, the next three steps as seen here will be:

1. Re-establishment of contact among the belligerents—Great Britain, France and Germany—through third powers, either Italy or the sovereigns of Belgium or the Netherlands, or perhaps through powers looking after belligerents' interests, such as United States.

2. An armistice in the war which began September 3.

3. An international conference.

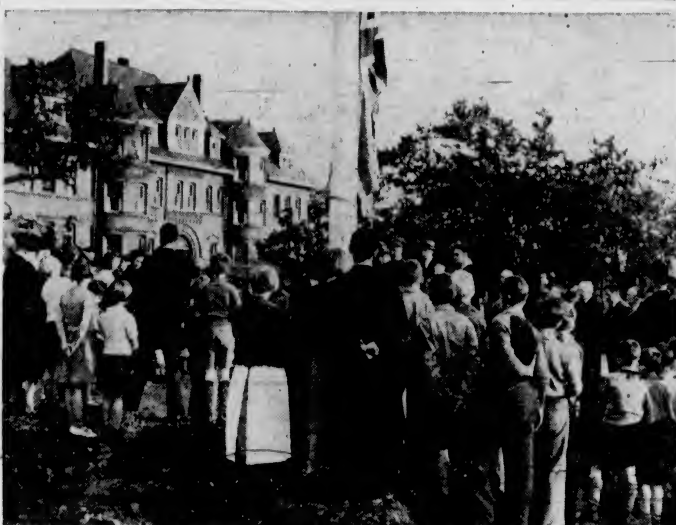

EUROPEAN SECURITY

"The most important task," Hitler told the Reichstag, "is the question of not only a belief in, but also a sense of, European security."

Aims in the foreign policy of European nations, therefore, should be directed towards the attainment of this goal.

Handsome Flag Presented to Orphanage

ALTHOUGH the institution has been in existence for about half a century, the Orphan Home, Victoria, has never possessed a proper flag and flagstaff, so an impressive event was made of the ceremony of raising the flag to the top of the sixty-seven-foot pole on Thursday afternoon. Part of the gathering of grown-ups and children attending the ceremony can be seen in this picture, among those taking an active part in the proceedings being the Bishop of Columbia, Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown, Reginald Haywood, Alderman Archie Willis, Major F. V. Longstaff, and Bugler E. P. Shaw. The pole and flag, which through the generosity of several friends is a free gift to the orphanage, will play a part in the celebration of a number of anniversaries of historic and patriotic interest. Among those who contributed toward the gift were Ernest Peatt (Colwood), the City, and the B.C. Electric Railway Company, Major Longstaff, the Melrose Company, and R. H. Shanks.

ROOSEVELT UNLIKELY TO OFFER PROPOSAL

If it becomes clear Hitler's peace efforts are taken as a sign of weakness his "reply" will come swift and fast. "This source added 'our readiness for peace is just as great as our readiness for war.'"

There was even a hint the German Government might consent to the holding of a peace conference in Washington or somewhere else in the Americas far from the scene of the European strike.

WILLING TO WAIT

Hitler was represented as willing to wait from eight to ten days—longer than originally expected—of world opinion of his peace plan to consolidate.

Failing a reply through neutrals or directly from Great Britain and France, the sinking of a submarine or a ship or the shelling of a city would be taken as a negative answer and the "expectable German reply would follow," the authorized source said.

Germany's present plan as stated by Hitler, it was said, includes proposals which democratic countries had been making for years, but which Germany then felt she could not accept.

She rejected such proposals as collective security, free trade, solution of minority problems and other ideals associated with the League of Nations' activities because, it was asserted, "the fundamental conditions which would permit Germany to have accepted them were not present."

Now, however, with revision of the Versailles Treaty considered virtually accomplished, Germany was represented to be in a position to accept many of the things which Britain and France themselves formerly advocated.

Government Plans May Protect City Water Reservoirs

CITY Council water board members were gratified to learn yesterday that Defence of Canada Regulations now define essential services to include any undertaking for the supply of electricity, gas or water; any sewer or sewage-disposal system, and municipal services, property and utilities. Trope was expressed by the water board that the Department of National Defence would thus provide guards for the waterworks system and watersheds, at present costing $150 per week to protect. Oak Bay and Saanich have declined to assist the city financially.

ive Italian source tonight found Adolf Hitler's Reichstag speech "favorably" received as a way toward ending the war.

It was believed in informed circles that Italy's policy of taking no initiative in peace moves remained unchanged, at least until there was some indication of British and French reactions. Little confidence was expressed that the speech's reception in London and Paris would be favorable.

Premier Mussolini and Foreign Minister Ciano received a copy of the speech from the German Ambassador two hours before Hitler started speaking.

Well-informed sources said that if the Western allies agreed to a conference, Italy probably would agree to participate.

CHRYSANthemum SHOW IS TODAY

Splendid Display Promised. With Sale of Flowers to Be Held Tonight at 9 o'clock

Opening at 12 o'clock noon today, the Chrysanthemum Show will be continued all afternoon in the Crystal Garden, concluding shortly after 9 o'clock in the evening.

The distribution of prizes will take place at 8:45 when Mrs. S. L. McMullen will present them to the winners. On the conclusion of the show at 9, there will be an auction sale of the flowers that are on exhibition, which will afford visitors the opportunity of securing bouquets for Thanksgiving Day.

The committee in charge of the exhibits are very gratified with the assurance of a wonderful display of flowers at this annual event.

HALIFAX, Oct. 6 (AP).—Nova Scotia today gave what Deputy Provincial Secretary A. S. Barnstead described as "our answer to Hitler."

An extraordinary edition of The Royal Gazette has been published, proclaiming a season of "dedication and preparation" aimed at acceleration of food production.

FRANCE REJECTS NAZI PROPOSAL

General Alphonse Joseph Georges, French Army group commander in charge of French operations on the northern flank of the Western Front. With General Ironside was Air Chief Marshal Sir Cyril Newall.

Fighting at the front today still was bogged down by bad weather which hampered scouting planes and consequently artillery, which in modern warfare uses planes as target spotters.

NEW ACTIVITY ON FRONT

Tonight's High Command communique, however, showed a new stirring of activity on the front which has been relatively quiet for the past four days.

The communique said that light units such as infantry patrols were skirmishing in numerous sectors of the northern flank.

One German operation, which the communique described as an "attack," was reported repulsed west of Wismbourg in the Haardt Mountains, where the French lines are scarcely over the frontier into German territory.

A communique issued after the Foreign Affairs committee meeting said Daladier in his remarks reiterated:

WANTS LASTING PEACE

"France and Britain are waging war to put an end to a reign of aggression, to end the need of mobilizing every six months. They want a lasting peace which rests on respect of the pledged word and on honor, which guarantees the security of France and of all nations."

The report of the committee meeting, held behind closed doors, then gave the conclusion of Daladier's speech in his own words:

"This peace excludes all domination in Europe. It can be founded only on the right of peoples to life and liberty. France and Great Britain never will lay down their arms until that peace has been assured effectively."

GUN PRACTICE TO TAKE PLACE TODAY

GUN PRACTICE TO TAKE PLACE TODAY

Naval authorities announced last night that gun practice would take place in the Strait just off Victoria this afternoon. The location or exact time of firing was not disclosed.

war to put an end to a reign of aggression, to end the need of mobilizing every six months. They want a lasting peace which rests on respect of the pledged word and on honor, which guarantees the security of France and of all nations."

The report of the committee meeting, held behind closed doors, then gave the conclusion of Daladier's speech in his own words:

"This peace excludes all domination in Europe. It can be founded only on the right of peoples to life and liberty. France and Great Britain never will lay down their arms until that peace has been assured effectively."

HERR HITLER'S TERMS

Herr Hitler has made his peace offer, accompanied by a threat which can only be regarded as one of frightfulness. With that threat overshadowing any conference of the Powers such as he suggests, he says he desires to bring to Europe a new sense of security. Now it appears, once more, if his word can be believed, he has renounced any further territorial claims, save in the case of the restoration of the German colonies lost in the Great War; but he does not foresee that war would be necessary to secure these. He lays down the doctrine that the conquest of Poland must be regarded as an accepted fact, but hints at the possibility of a Polish State, which, presumably, would be a puppet State where Germany and Russia would exert all the influence and power.

Herr Hitler says that "a new sense of security is necessary," and that unless what he proposes is accepted he will make no other suggestion, but will prosecute the war with all the power at Germany's command, far out to sea and by every means. Thus he has put forward a peace proposal at the point of the gun, while attempting to show that Great Britain and France alone are responsible for the war and must bear the onus of its continuance. The conference he suggests would be to accept the conditions he has laid down, and he suggests, too, that it could concern itself with disarmament and economic relations between the Powers. Moreover, he would have land, perhaps even a State, set apart for the Jews whom he has persecuted.

Herr Hitler has made no suggestion whereby the peace terms he has put forward would be respected, supposing they were accepted. The proposal is that the Powers must trust him, despite his record of broken promises, torn up treaties and violation of the pledged word. He would have a conference of the Powers decide on a peaceful settlement of European affairs, but only on the terms he has laid down himself. In other words, he would be the master hand to which other nations must submit. He wants the law of force to triumph over the force of law. He wants his invasion of Poland condoned and its results accepted, and as a threat if there is refusal, he alludes to Germany's new-found friendship with Russia.

The logical conclusion to be reached from the Nazi proposals is that Herr Hitler is true to the type of his National-Socialist Government. He has given another exhibition of his belief in Power Politics, in the assumption that there could be any conference of Powers to which he could lay down terms. There is an over-weening self-confidence shown in his latest Reichstag speech, a doctrine of blood and iron coupled with specious argument in favor of peace, and in the event of peace on his terms not being accepted, the threat of a ruthless war. He has said no more than he was expected to say, and no less.

In September, 1934, Herr Hitler asked "When has the German people ever broken its word?" In May, 1935, he said "Germany has reached a non-aggression pact with Poland which she will keep blindly. . . . Germany has nothing to gain by a European war. We want peace." In March, 1936, he said: "Germany will never break the peace of Europe. After three years I can regard the struggle for German equality as concluded today. We have no territorial demands to make in Europe." In January, 1937—"The period of so-called surprises is now over. . . . Peace is our dearest treasure." In September, 1938—"I am grateful to Mr. Chamberlain for all his efforts, and I have assured him that the German people want nothing but peace. . . . I have further assured him, and I emphasize it now, that when this problem (Czechoslovakia) is solved, Germany has no more territorial problems in Europe."

In his speech to the Reichstag on Germany's entry upon aggression in Poland, he said: "I am determined to solve, (1) the Danzig question, (2) the question of the Corridor, and (3) to see to it that a change is made in the relationship between Germany and Poland that shall insure a peaceful co-existence. . . . From now on bombs will be met with bombs. Whoever fights with poison gas will be fought with poison gas. . . . One word I have never learned, that is, surrender." On August 29 last, Herr Hitler said, that for the sake of the British Government he would agree to direct negotiations with the Polish Government on his own terms. He demanded that a Polish emissary with full powers to settle everything without recourse to Warsaw must be in Berlin by midnight, August 30, by which time he would have the German terms ready for him. The Polish Government, not knowing what the terms would be, refused to send a plenipotentiary. On Wednesday night, August 30, Herr von Ribbentrop saw the British Ambassador and told him the German Government considered its proposals (which had never been put before either the Polish Government or the British Government) to have been rejected since no Polish plenipotentiary had arrived. Herr von Ribbentrop then read the proposals, and they were broadcast in Germany. They were never meant to be discussed. The German Army was already on the move.

It is with a Government of this character that the Powers of Europe are supposed to go into conference, according to the proposal made by Herr Hitler. In his Reichstag speech, when German troops were already in Poland, he told his people and the world that "as always I have attempted to make many proposals for revision. It is a deliberate lie for anyone to suggest that we always try to bring about revision under pressure. I have this time once more tried to pursue our demands through peaceful channels. All these proposals have, as you know, been refused." The proposals, as pointed out, were never submitted to the Polish Government, which indicates clearly that Herr Hitler intended war to gratify his ambitions. He attempted to deceive his own people, as well as the world, in the pretext he sought for the conquest of Poland

In the Great War launched by Germany "the Belgian scrap of paper was torn up, but Poland's piece of paper, with its sixteen points, was not even delivered."

It is with a mentality such as this that the Allied Powers of Great Britain and France are asked to make peace on terms laid down by Herr Hitler. It is a mentality which believes in bullying and chicanery, as is emphasized once more in Herr Hitler's latest Reichstag speech, in which he attempts to justify his course of action and at the same time threaten his enemies if they do not agree to his price of peace. No self-respecting nation could acquiesce in the terms he offers; none could sit at the council table at which the Hitlerian mentality attempted to dominate the course of proceedings. There will be defeatists who will advocate that a conference of the Powers should be held to discuss peace on the basis of the terms which Herr Hitler proposes, and they will be found among the peoples of all the countries that would be expected to participate. There remain people who want peace, even at the price of the loss of liberty and honor for their countries. If such a peace were made the sense of insecurity would remain, as it has remained since Nazism assumed power in Germany.

As to the British Government, it is unthinkable that it should agree to a peace conference on the basis of Herr Hitler's terms. Any such course would be a denial of the very reason for which Great Britain entered the war. That reason is on record from the lips of Mr. Neville Chamberlain, the Prime Minister, when he said: "We shall stand at the bar of history knowing that the responsibility for this terrible catastrophe lies on the shoulders of one man—the German Chancellor—who has not hesitated to plunge the world into misery in order to serve his own senseless ambitions. We have no quarrel with the German people, except that they allow themselves to be governed by a Nazi Government. As long as that Government exists and pursues the methods it has so persistently followed during the last two years—the sickening technique of which we are now so familiar with—there will be no peace in Europe. We are resolved that these methods must come to an end."

AN UNKNOWN QUANTITY

Moscow is proceeding vigorously with making the Baltic States her dependences. Latvia and Estonia have fallen into line with Russian desires, and have donated bases for naval and military action by the Bolsheviks. Lithuania is about to follow suit, and then Finland's turn will come. All is being ordained by Soviet orders, and the States concerned, faced with the pressure of the Red Army, have succumbed. They will probably become a part of Russia before long. Presumably when this object is secured the same process, only with Germany as a partner, will be pursued in the Balkan States. Herr Hitler has decreed that the Soviet-German alliance is to settle all the affairs of Eastern Europe. He does not want interference from anyone, will not tolerate it in fact.

When Herr Hitler's peace terms are rejected he will undoubtedly invoke the aid of Russia. He has promised on such an event, to consult with that Power "on necessary further measures." What he cannot calculate upon is what Russia will do. At present Russia appears able to gain her ends without fighting, and she may well continue this process, benefiting by the fact that Germany is at war and that she has a friendship pact with that nation. The outcome of Germany's further consultations with Russia, whatever it may be, will not weaken the Allies' will to victory.

THE COST IS COUNTED

No similar crisis in history has brought with it a mood so different from the feverish excitement that has often found expression in the movements of cheering mobs, the noise and laughter of men and women so deeply engaged by the realization of a seemingly distant goal, that the suffering of war will fall on a minority and that the cheering majority will reap only a vicarious glory. For some of us, indeed, there may be a certain sense of relief—relief that the long tension of waiting is over and that Britain has chosen in the way of honor and on the long view of future security. But the memory of 1914-18 is still fresh. For twenty years one of our strongest and most cherished desires has been to avoid such a calamity as that which we now have to face—Glasgow Herald.

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

Monday, Thanksgiving Day, will be another one of those days in British Columbia about which nobody can be certain—a public holiday. Public schools will be shut, but private schools may be open. Stores may be shut, but factories may be open. The Legislative Buildings will be open. The holiday started out fairly enough by proclamation under the Great Seal of Canada, and was clear to everyone until it arrived at the Province. In this Province it ran up against the Constitution Act, the Factories Act, and the Weekly Half-Holiday Act, to say nothing of the Council of Public Instruction and the School Act, and one or two other measures. The Federal proclamation ended, in part.

"Whereas it hath pleased Almighty God in His great goodness to vouchsafe this year unto Our Dominion of Canada a bountiful crop and other blessings;

"We therefore, considering that these blessings enjoyed by Our people throughout the said Dominion do call for a solemn and public acknowledgment, have thought fit, by and with the advice of Our Privy Council for Canada, to appoint, and We do appoint Monday, the ninth day of October next, as a day of general thanksgiving to Almighty God for the bountiful crop and other blessings with which Canada has been favored this year; and We do invite all our loving subjects throughout Canada to observe the said day as a day of general thanksgiving."

"Of all which Our loving subjects and all others whom these presents may concern are hereby required to take notice and to govern themselves accordingly."

In other words, a royal proclamation proclaiming the occasion, marking its spirit, and commanding general compliance. The form is that customarily used, and there is nothing wrong with it. Indeed, the reverse would be true. The form is a great deal better than the age in which it is being used. Canada, as a nation, has made a mistake. It is expected to be truly thankful for them. The thanks was to include all, meaning everyone; and a special day was to be set aside for that purpose. See what happens next. The Federal proclamation was repeated in the British Columbia Gazette, making British Columbia citizens officially aware of it. Then Provincial law began to apply. The Constitution Act, the Factories Act, the Weekly Half-Holiday Act, the School Act and several other measures passed by successive Legislatures, set out to define, directly and indirectly, what the holiday is a holiday, and when it is not. Unfortunately, they do not agree.

So Monday will be a holiday in public schools, but not necessarily in private schools. Provincial Buildings will be closed, but the Museum will be open. The holiday will apply under the Weekly Half-Holiday Act to "stores and other mercantile establishments," but not to factories under the Factories Act. A standard definition of "mercantile" only confuses matters. "Mercantile," states the Oxford Dictionary, means "of, belonging to, or concerned with, trade, commerce, or business." In a practical sense, the Attorney-General's Department no longer wishes to define a holiday in British Columbia. The Department of Education may speak for elementary, junior and senior high, and normal schools, but cannot rule as to private schools. And so it goes all through the structure of public life. No one person is to blame; and yet every time a holiday is declared in British Columbia, only a cluster of senior barristers could possibly determine what it means. So Monday will be another of those days in British Columbia, a public holiday—whatever that means.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of October 7, 1889.)

To Honor Lord Stanley—Rear-Admiral Henshaw and the officers of the Pacific fleet now stationed at Esquimalt, are making arrangements for a grand ball to be given at the naval deckyard on the evening of November 1, when Lord Stanley is expected to dine on board the flagship with the admiral. The affair will also form a pleasant reunion for all previous to the departure of some of the ships for other stations. Another form of entertainment to be presented during the vigorous visit will be a second gymnastic meeting, in which the officers of the fleet will, as before, take a leading part.

United in Marriage—In Christ Church Cathedral last evening, Rev. Arthur Beaulieu officiated at a quiet and very pretty wedding. Mr. Thomas Milne taking to himself a wife in the charming person of Miss Marion Elizabeth Gibson, better known as Bessie Gibson, the daughter of Mr. William Gibson, late of Ogdish, Ont. The bride was dressed in cream cashmere, and wore hat and gloves to match. Her friend, Miss Ella Poole, acted as bridesmaid, while Mr. William Lange filled the position of best man.

A Paper Mill—The Albion Iron Works Co. have been asked for figures by a couple of English capitalists upon the possibility of erecting in connection with a large paper mill which they contemplate establishing in this city.

ARMY PLAN IS TO BE DROPPED

Provincial Gov't Instead Will Bear Employees' Share of Pensions

Premier Pattullo announced yesterday that the Provincial Government had revoked the 1914-1918 plan to make up the difference between civil service pay and army pay for provincial employees leaving for war service, in view of continued protests. Instead, the Province will keep up superannuation payments, paying the employees' share as well as its own.

A week ago the Province announced that the 1914-1918 arrangements would be renewed, whereby the Provincial Government would make good any difference between what civil servants received normally and what they might receive upon joining His Majesty's forces for service at home or abroad. Positions, seniority and superannuation arrangements were also to be maintained.

The only change now, it was explained, will be that the Province will make no direct contributions to army pay, but will assume the employee's share of superannuation allowances while he remains on services with the colors. Positions, seniority and other privileges will be retained, as before, it was intimated.

The decision to amend the plan and revoke the initial arrangement was taken at the final Cabinet meeting of the week, held yesterday. A statement issued by the Province said the change would be prepared immediately, Premier Pattullo said.

Worthy Cause

It seems to us a great pity that the annual police ball was postponed on account of the war. We suggest that the bluecoats go right ahead with arrangements and put across a monster ball with proceeds earmarked for the Red Cross.

A sad case of a woman who never trusted banks came to light. She possessed several hundred dollars which she usually hid in various locations about the house. One afternoon she had to do some shopping, so hid the huge roll of bills in the fob of the kitchen stove which had been out for an hour or two. She expected to return home before her husband and have his dinner ready as usual.

By some quirk of fate, her husband reached home in the middle of the afternoon and noticed the fire to make himself a cup of tea. You can imagine what happened to the roll of bills. We heard of another tragedy concerning a valuable platinum ring set with diamonds. A woman engaged in mending a blouse was asked to put the ring in the fire-box of her stove for safe keeping, knowing that burglars would not look in such a place for valuables. After several fires had been lighted and the ring temporarily forgotten, the woman suddenly recalled. There was no trace—G.B.

Coin Collectors

We've just discovered a new way for a coin collector to follow his hobby. . . . of course, it is a rather complicated method and a few difficulties might have to be overcome first. But if you want to obtain a wide variety of coins just hold a peat dog. The Labor Department does its best, but cannot speak for the Department of Education. The Department of Education may speak for elementary, junior and senior high, and normal schools, but cannot rule as to private schools. And so it goes all through the structure of public life. No one person is to blame; and yet every time a holiday is declared in British Columbia, only a cluster of senior barristers could possibly determine what it means. So Monday will be another of those days in British Columbia, a public holiday—whatever that means.

END NO EVIDENCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Secretary Hull said today United States warships had looked into reports that the Dominican Republic was refusing German submarines in the Caribbean. But the State Department had every reason to believe in the Republic's entire neutrality.

JOINS THE NAVY

QUEBEC, Oct. 6 (AP)—A middle-aged fur trader who quit his lonely northern habitat to join Canada's naval forces, and the first white child born at far off Pangnirtung, Baffinland, were members of a party which arrived at Quebec today.

HOP BEER

"Sir—I have often wondered why hop beer, or as it is called here near beer, is not to be had in Victoria. When prohibition started there was for a short time a very good luncheon bar where the healthful, non-intoxicating drink was served, either at the bar or at small tables where a light lunch could also be had. I am under the impression, though, that the Liquor Control Board, which, of course, is out to further the cause of temperance, stopped near beer from being sold anywhere, for as this kind of beer was getting so popular it might rival the stuff being sold in beer parlors notwithstanding the salt shakers, and this well-conducted lunch bar had to put up the shutters."

I can well remember when in Chicago in 1893 how one of the principal breweries there turned out a splendid beer, absolutely non-intoxicating.

Letters to Editor

No letter to the Editor will be inserted except over the proper signature and no exception to this rule admits of any exception. No letter should exceed 500 words in length.

"LEAVES FROM THE TREE"

Sir—Your editorial of last Sunday, the 1st instant, under the above caption is, to say the least, very interesting and helpful.

It is indeed a remarkable fact and not a mere coincidence, that on the day Great Britain entered this present war, the Morning Prayer and the First Lesson, for that day, of the Anglican Church should be those striking passages of Scripture: Psalm XV and Habakkuk II, 1-14. "God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform" and many are the Christians who have experienced God's loving dealings with them during times of anxiety and sorrow by sending them at the right moment some comforting word of the Bible just suited for their case. The Lord is indeed our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble, when, with unwavering prayers, we make our requests known to Him.

All thoughtful people will readily agree with your remarks. Perhaps this war is a judgment upon the wickedness of the laws of God's Kingdom; which remark is substantiated by a very significant saying of the Archbishop of Canterbury: "If, believing our cause to be just, we dare commit it to Him, Who judges right, it must be with real poise in our hearts and an honest desire thereafter as a nation to be more loyal to His sovereign will."

There is no doubt that, as a nation and as individuals, we could have been more loyal to God's sovereign will, and the present calamity we are going through should not so much be used by us to condemn others but to confess our own shortcomings towards our Creator. Let intense prayer rise to Him from the heart of every believer and He, Who is "the Judge of all the earth, will do right" when we shall experience as individuals and as a nation that He will be merciful and that He will abundantly pardon!

The history of Israel and its kings is given to us as a lesson we should take to heart for they were blessed only "as long as they did that which was right in the eyes of the Lord."

The tremendous daily and hourly events point to the dawn of that great day when He, Who promised to come again, shall come with healing in His wings; the day when He shall heal the nations of their wounds of grief. "Leaves from the Tree of Life." L. J. BECKMAN, 40-41 Millington Avenue, Victoria, B.C., Oct. 5, 1939.

VANCOUVER SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

Sir—I bespeak the generous support of the people of Victoria for the outstanding musical event of the season, namely, the concert of the Vancouver Symphony Orchestra, under the distinguished direction of Sir Ernest MacMillan, with Madame Gertrude Huntly Green as guest soloist.

This attraction is scheduled to appear at the Royal Victoria Theatre on the evening of October 9. In addition to their enjoyment of a rare musical treat, music lovers will have the satisfaction of knowing that they are helping the outstanding patriotic fund of the moment, namely the Canadian Red Cross. Not only have the artists consented to perform at reduced fees for this worthy cause, but Mr. Brian Burdon-Murphy, under whose management this splendid musical effort is being brought to Victoria, has very generously tendered his services and the entire net proceeds of the concert to the Canadian Red Cross Society.

To Mr. Burdon-Murphy and the participating artists the thanks of the Canadian Red Cross Society are sincerely tendered.

BOTTLED FRUIT

Sir—Many housewives do not seem to be aware of the fact that it is not at all necessary to use sugar in bottling fruit. I never use it. In view of the fact that thrifty households will want to put up all the fruit they can this fall, in consequence of rising prices of food-stuffs, I thought this information might prove of interest to those who feel that they cannot afford to buy a great deal of sugar at this time. Fruit that has been properly bottled will keep just as well without sugar as with and in my opinion the flavor is greatly improved by the absence of sugar, which, of course, may be added at the time of using if desired. MIX BUSINESS WITH PLEASURE

Electrical Delegates Play Golf and Talk About Lamp Developments

Delegates attending the three-day convention of the Pacific Division of the National Electrical Wholesalers' Association of the United States, now being held in the Empress Hotel, mixed business with pleasure yesterday, the second day of the conference.

An open session was held in the morning, at which discussions affecting the industry were dealt with, and after lunch the delegates flocked out to the Royal Colwood golf course to begin their four tournament competitions, which are played for annually during one of the three conventions held each year.

Fred C. Todt, district manager of the General Electric Supply Corporation, Los Angeles, and chairman of the division, presided over the morning business sessions, which included the presentation of two papers on certain problems of the electrical business.

ELECTRIC LAMP

L. R. Wilson, manager of the incandescent light department, General Electric Company, Portland, detailed the great development of the electric lamp, particularly the various branches of manufacture, and described marketing methods and future prospects. W. C. Smith, of the General Electric Supply Corporation, Salt Lake City, discussed the general relations between public utilities and wholesalers.

After dinner in the hotel, which was attended by the wives and daughters of delegates, an executive business session was held, and the ladies were entertained at a bridge party. Earlier in the day the ladies of the party had spent hours shopping and sightseeing in the city.

This morning another open session will be held, at which W. C. Mainwaring, general sales manager of the B.C. Electric Railway Company, Vancouver, and K. M. Robinson, president of the Washington Water Supply Company, Spokane, will speak.

The afternoon will see the golf tournaments finally concluded, and this evening the convention will be brought to a close at a banquet to be held in the Empress Hotel, when the golfing trophies will be presented.

SUBJECT TO CALL

BUDAPEST, Oct. 6 (AP).—Males and females between fourteen and seventy were made subject to call for Government service in an official order published today. Girls under sixteen and all persons over forty-two will be drafted only in time of actual war.

Electrical Heads Confer

Fred C. Todt, district manager of the General Electric Supply Corporation, Los Angeles, left, and J. P. Carson, executive of the Graybar Electric Company, Los Angeles, holding a between-sessions chat in the Empress Hotel during the three-day convention of the Pacific Division of the National Electrical Wholesalers' Association of the United States being held in Victoria. Mr. Todt is chairman of the division, and Mr. Carson is convention programme chairman.

EIRE WIDENS WAR POWERS

Free State Taking Precautions to Preserve Neutrality—To Watch Coasts

DUBLIN, Oct. 6 (CP).—Eire is taking precautions to preserve her neutrality, avoid effects of the war in Europe and maintain internal peace.

The army, reserve and volunteer forces have been mobilized to watch the coasts and to guard all strategic points throughout the state. Plans are being pushed to recruit a special police force to give temporary assistance to the normal force.

While the coast will be guarded as closely as possible, it is not believed possible that Eire will be able to maintain a close enough watch to prevent repetition of the October 4 incident, when a German submarine landed the crew of the Greek freighter Diamantis at Dingle, County Kerry.

POWERS GRANTED

Parliament has granted drastic emergency powers to the De Valera Government and has approved the neutrality policy. The Fianna Fail and the Labor Party have abandoned all political activity in order to avoid embarrassing the Government.

Males entering or leaving Eire now require either passports or permits. There is freedom of movement between Northern Ireland and Eire over the land frontier, but control is being exercised on the sea routes

Sheriff Summons Jurymen to Fall Assizes Tuesday

JURYMEN have been summoned by Sheriff H. W. Goggin to attend the Fall Assizes in the Courthouse at 11 o'clock on Tuesday morning. It is anticipated that Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson will preside. M. B. Jackson, K.C., has been named Crown prosecutor. The only case before the assizes is Rex vs. John Lewis Sankey, in which the accused faces a charge of gross indecency.

by both the British and Eire Governments.

Exports of many commodities have been banned, except under licence of the Department of Supplies. The Cabinet has been thoroughly reshuffled and a new Ministry for Defence Co-ordination has been established. It has the additional duty of looking after censorship. Press censorship is voluntary and editors do not submit their news.

CABINET SHIFTS

Sean Lemass has been shifted from the Ministry of Industry and Commerce to the Ministry of Supplies, where he will control essential commodities, which must be imported or are produced here only in small quantities. He has been replaced by Sean MacEntee, whose Ministry of Finance has been taken over by Sean T. O'Kelly, Deputy Premier.

Patrick Rutledge leaves the Ministry of Justice to take over O'Kelly's former portfolio of Local Government and Public Health. The new Justice Minister is Gerald Boland, former Minister of Land Division. He is not a lawyer.

"To provide against the possibility of a serious disturbance of the peace," the new Justice Minister had issued orders for the detention of about sixty prominent persons suspected of complicity in activities of the outlawed Irish Republican Army. They are to be interned.

RATION GASOLINE

It is believed compulsory rationing may be introduced next year. It has been decreed already in Northern Ireland. A rationing scheme for gasoline came into force October 2. Private motorists who use their cars only for pleasure are limited to enough gas to take them 250 miles a month.

The rationing is considered necessary to conserve supplies for industry so that men may not be thrown out of work through lack of fuel.

In the first week of the war, all cities, towns, and villages were blacked out. The Minister for Defence Co-ordination subsequently consented to restore one-third of public lighting.

Booklets have been distributed in cities instructing people in precautions against gas attacks. Gas masks have been stored in various centres for distribution, and trenches are being dug in Dublin.

CHAPTER XII

On Sunday morning, the day after the picnic, the house seemed deserted. The women kept their rooms and some of the men had gone to play golf. Craig wandered around like a lost spirit, wondering where Yvette would come downstairs. He saw him, and with the privilege of an old servant, said, "You won't see the sweet face you're looking for, so soon, Mr. Craig. She's hobnobbing with Mrs. Lee, and they're talkin' right straight along, like a non-stop train of cars."

Oak Bay Firemen Hold Ball to Aid Red Cross

Large Crowd Attends First Annual Dance Held by Department at Yacht Club—Artistic Decorations Work of Special Committee

The members of the Oak Bay fire department have gone on record as being first-class hosts and their first annual ball, held last evening at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, proved to be an outstanding success. There were 300 guests and all were enthusiastic in their expression of appreciation of the excellent arrangements made by the ball committee. The affair was given in aid of the Red Cross Society. The ballroom had been beautifully decorated for the occasion; the committee including Messrs. Richard Ireland, Ernest Wells, Alan Kinnear, Ronald Coleman, Alan Reside and Arthur Lea, had worked hard to make the clubhouse look as festive as possible. There were replicas of fire helmets, axes and plaster hooks, which were covered with a frosted glitter finish, and these were hung around the walls. The fireplace was banked with salal and autumn flowers, and two spotlights set in the fireplace illuminated the pretty scene. Greenery hung over the chandeliers and the glassed-in veranda was illuminated by strings of colored lights.

A seven-piece orchestra was in attendance and vocal solos with orchestral accompaniment were sung during the evening by Miss Dolly Rutledge. A balloon dance was a feature number.

There were two sittings for supper, which was served in the dining-room, upstairs, the tables having red crosses on the white cloths and central bowls of chrysanthemums and gladioli.

The ball was under the patronage of Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Premier of British Columbia, and special invitations were sent to Capt. V. G. Brodeur, Brig. J. G. Stewart, Mayor Andrew McGavin, Mr. Alex. Munroe (Victoria fire chief), Mr. Hugh Reson (chief of the Oak Bay police department), Mr. J. A. McEwan (chief of the Victoria police department) and fire chiefs from Up-Island centres. The Reeve of Oak Bay, Mr.

R. R. Taylor, together with the council, were also special guests. Welcoming the guests as they arrived was Mr. E. G. Claydars, chief of the Oak Bay fire department, and the committee comprising Messrs. Gordon Lay, Norman Stewardson and William Pearson.

Island Wool Won Fleece Award at California Show

Vancouver Island wool has again attained distinction. At the Golden Gate International Exposition wool show, held recently in San Francisco, first prize for fleece in the Kerry Hill sheep class was won by a fleece entered by E. J. T. Woodward, Darby Farm, Albert Head. The fleece, which weighed ten pounds, was from an imported Kerry Hill ram, which won the championship in his class at both the Vancouver and Victoria fairs this year.

Second, third and fourth prizes in the same class at the Golden Gate Exposition wool show were also won by a British Columbia man, H. H. B. Abbott, of Abbotsford. The Kerry Hill wool is especially popular among Indian knitters for the heavy sweaters which are now made in such large numbers.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM WHITE CHAMBERS
Photographed at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reed, Uplands, following their wedding, which took place this week. The bride was formerly Miss Anna Lavina McLaughlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McLaughlin, Craigdarroch Road. Mr. and Mrs. Chambers will make their home in Donavan, Sask.

Miss Lorna Benson Bride Of Mr. Wm. VanDruten

Fairfield United Church was the scene of a smart all-white wedding last evening at 9 o'clock when Lorna, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Benson, 84 Moss Street, was united in marriage to Mr. William VanDruten, elder son of the late Mr. William VanDruten and Mrs. VanDruten, 2087 Crescent Road, by Rev. Norman Cross. Tall baskets of white chrysanthemums beautified the church and white tapers glowed in tall candelabra at either side of the pulpit.

Mr. George H. Peaker played the wedding music and the choir, of which the bride is a member, sang "O Perfect Love," and during the signing of the register, Miss Isabelle Pike and Mr. Robert Husband sang the duet, "O Love Divine."

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father and was a picture in her old-fashioned gown, made in redingote style with full skirt and slight train. The lace redingote was over white satin and had an Elizabethan collar with long sleeves and fastened in front with tiny satin buttons and on either side of which were applied white satin flowers. Her illusion veil was caught to the top of her head with a cluster of orange blossoms and fell in folds to the floor, and she carried an all-white shower bouquet of gardenias, white roses, carnations and waxmums with the gardenias predominating.

QUAINT GOWNS
Mrs. H. L. Humphry as matron of honor and Miss Helen Peaker as bridesmaid were the attendants any time were identical frocks of white tulle with small bodices and very full skirts with bustle effect. The low square necks were finished with ruffled insets. Small, brilliant buttons decorated the front of the bodices. They both carried fragrant Colonial bouquets and tiny rock flowers similar to the bouquets of the bridesmaids. The ends of which fell in streamers down the backs of the frocks, made dainty hairdresses. Mr. Paul Trudel, Vancouver, was best man and the ushers were Messrs. Wilson Loudon and Tommy McKeachie.

In the alcove of the bay window behind two beauty vases filled with Michelmas daisies and yellow shaggy chrysanthemums over which was arranged a canopy of white satin streamers caught with three white wedding bells, the bride and groom stood to receive the guests at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Benson in a black frock with insets of cut velvet and a small black hat with veil, and Mrs. VanDruten wearing a dark blue dress trimmed with sequins and a matching hat, assisted in receiving. They both wore corsage bouquets of gardenias. The low square-necked wedding cake centred the table and was surrounded by pink tulle. Four white tapers glowed in silver candelabra, and small silver vases held posies of pink roses. Suspended from the chandelier over the table was a dainty canopy of white crepe paper. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Percy C. Richards.

BRIDES ENSEMBLE
The bride wore a forest green wool crepe frock with shirred bodice with the new bustle back and swirl skirt for traveling. The short sleeves were piped to match the piping on the bodice, and her wide-brimmed hat of forest green carried out the piping effect in the fluted collar, crown and her suede gloves and shoes were of the exact shade. Over her dress she donned a dark rust

WEEKS OF REST NEEDED AFTER AN ATTACK OF CORONARY THROMBOSIS

About the first thing that happens when blood is pumped out of the heart into the big artery (aorta) to go to all parts of the body is that some of this blood goes directly from the aorta to supply the heart muscle itself. There are two small vessels called coronary or heart vessels which carry the blood from aorta one to each side of the heart. It is by means of these two vessels and their branches that the heart gets its supply of blood to strengthen its walls so that these walls can continue to pump blood. If anything obstructs or blocks these vessels, then the heart fails to receive enough blood to do its work. These two vessels must carry enough blood to the heart at all times to enable it to pump the ordinary amount of blood to all parts of the body and also the extraordinary amounts that must be pumped when the individual is doing hard work. It is digesting a large meal, or is fighting an ailment.

It can readily be seen that anything that blocks these vessels or their branches is a serious condition—and may cause complete failure. The blocking may be done by a little bit of tissue from vegetable-like growths on valves of the mouths of the coronary vessels and prevents blood getting to the heart muscle to nourish it, or to what is called "thrombosis," where the lining of the coronary blood vessel becomes thickened and blood cannot pass through. When the heart muscle becomes soft and blood going to it may rupture, and scar tissue replaces the muscle tissue. It takes a number of weeks for the spot to heal and that is why rest is needed for six or eight weeks is prescribed after an attack of coronary thrombosis. Although these coronary vessels or their branches may become blocked and a part of the wall of the heart thus does not receive its blood supply for a time, other tiny vessels in the vicinity of the block may begin to join one another and set up a new circulation of blood at the injured point.

When the coronary vessels are badly blocked and a great amount of scar tissue has taken the place of elastic tissue in the vessels, sometimes, by means of an operation, a blood supply for the walls of the heart is obtained directly from vessels supplying the huge chest muscle.

Father—They enter for the Grand National, sonny, and I back them.

Nearly Trapped By Fire in Dredge

VANCOUVER, Oct. 6 (CP).—Two crew members of the Dominion Public Works Department Dredge No. 303 escaped uninjured today when nearly trapped by fire which caused considerable damage to the vessel.

Gordon Kelly, chief engineer, and Gordon Cherry, steward, were asleep below decks when the fire broke out. They awakened in time to flee safely.

OVERBOOKED

"I must say, sir," said counsel for the Crown, heatedly, "that you are the biggest rogue I've ever met!"
"And you, sir, are the biggest fool I ever met!" retorted his opponent.
"I fear counsel are forgetting," interposed the judge, "that I am on the bench."

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "It is possible—yes, it is the duty and privilege of God's children, man and woman—to follow in some degree the example of the Master by the demonstration of Truth and Life, of health and holiness."

CLEOPATRA PETITE

NOW nearing England, is an experienced operator of motor craft. He is from Chemainus, and will try to enroll in the Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve for service aboard armed motorboats. He carries letters from Captain H. Seymour-Biggs to important personages in the British Board of Trade.

On board the Ss. Shawnee with Americans desiring to return from abroad, though the vessel's sailing from La Verdon, France, had been delayed several days in order to provide the fullest opportunity for American citizens to obtain immediate passage to New York.

The Shawnee, chartered to United States Lines for the sole purpose of returning Americans from Europe, can accommodate more than 500 passengers.

Three additional ships chartered for this same purpose are now on their way across the Atlantic. They are the Ss. John, the Acadia and the Iroquois, the latter vessel being westbound at the present time.

BROUGHT IN SMALL LIST

Pacific Empress—Docked Here Yesterday From Orient and Hawaii

Bringing in a small list of travelers, the Canadian Pacific Ss. Empress of Asia, Captain George Good, R.N.R., commander, arrived here yesterday from Orient ports via Hawaii. Officers of the ship reported an uneventful passage of the Pacific, but passengers aboard mentioned the ship encountered a heavy blow the day after leaving Yokohama.

Among the travelers aboard the Asia were: W. H. Siegfried, president of Siegfried and Company, tea merchants, Chicago, returning from a regular visit to Japan; Father P. B. Charbonneau, Franciscan Order, proceeding to Montreal from Tokyo; Mr. and Mrs. W. Buckenbrough and son, the former being Canadian Pacific agent at Tokyo, en route to Ontario on leave; Mr. and Mrs. B. Butler, the former being assistant Canadian trade commissioner, Singapore.

Others arriving aboard the liner were: Mr. and Mrs. A. Kemball and daughter, the former being connected with the Kallian Mining Administration, Chungking, China; Lieut.-Colonel C. L. Taylor, R.A., and niece, Miss Lasswell-Ward, proceeding from Hongkong to London; Surgeon Lieut. P. G. Burgess, R.N., on his way to London; and Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Chao, Hongkong, going to Cornell University to complete studies.

NO INTERFERENCE
The Japanese army in Northern China is not interfering with the operations of the great Kallian Mining Administration, A. Kemball, Chungking, told newspapermen aboard the liner arriving from the Orient yesterday. He is on his way to London, accompanied by Mrs. Kemball and child, and expects to rejoin the British army and get a commission in the artillery.

HEAVY STORM
Lieut.-Colonel C. L. O. Taylor, R.A., traveling from Hongkong to London, said the passengers on the Asia spent an uncomfortable night when the ship encountered a gale of almost typhoon proportions some thirty-six hours after leaving Yokohama. "I have seen worse blows," Colonel Taylor said, "but the one we ran into was bad enough."

VISITING HERE
Owner of a small plantation in the Manoa Valley near Waikele Beach, G. L. Gregson likes to get away from the Hawaiian climate and spend a few months on Vancouver Island, where he used to live some years ago. He used to raise roses at Lake Hill; now he raises tropical fruits in the paradise of the Pacific. Mr. Gregson expects to remain here several months, he stated yesterday, and will renew old acquaintances. His daughter, now Mrs. H. J. Lucas, wife of the Y.M.C.A. secretary on the island of Hawaii, was a high school student here before leaving for the South.

TRADE ENVOY
B. Butler, assistant trade commissioner for Canada at Singapore, Federated Malay States, arrived here yesterday on his way to Ottawa, accompanied by Mrs. Butler. He had nothing to say regarding trade matters in Malaysia.

HAWAIIAN WRESTLERS
Signed up for a series of engagements in the United States, a group of wrestlers from Hawaii arrived here yesterday and proceeded to Seattle. Another interesting group on the inbound liner included Mr. Chang, prominent Seattle merchant, with a large family, and his aged father.

J. W. Spence, who represents the Leeds engineering firm of Greenwood & Battley, is on his way home to England after a visit to Bangkok, Siam. Mr. Spence thought Canada would receive great benefits from large orders placed in the country by the British Government for equipment and supplies. Greenwood & Battley, he stated, have agents in Montreal.

ADANACS CAPTURE FIRST GAME OF CANADIAN FINAL

James Bay Boxla Squad Wins City Title at Willows

Score 15-13 Decision to Capture Senior Championship From the Alerts in Rough Fixture Before Largest Crowd of the Season—Saanic Young Liberals Win Junior Honors

In one of the wildest and roughest lacrosse games seen at the Victoria Sports Centre in many a moon, Ted Menzies' James Bay gaudy stick artists turned back Harry Sargison's Alert Service squad, 15-13, to capture the city championship last evening. A record crowd jammed the big building and cheered itself hoarse as the teams battled it out for the first sixty minutes, with the heavier Bays finally emerging on the right end of the score.

Another city championship was also decided last night, the Saanic Young Liberals downing McLean's Bakery, 12-11, to capture the juvenile title.

Bays marked up three victories in the best-of-five series, the Servicemen winning but one game. Menzies' crew took the opener, dropped the second game, and came back to win the last two fixtures.

Hero of last night's game, and for that matter the entire series, was Art McKim, sensational netminder of the new city champions. Nothing short of a six-foot board fence in front of the Bays' net could have stopped the Alerts' most effectively than McKim. He turned back long snarlz, fought off fighting blueshirts, and, on one occasion, raced down the floor with the ball and almost scored on Gawayley in the Servicemen's goal.

It was a tough game and a tougher series for the spunky delivery boys to lose, every one ticketed "goal" Gawayley, at the other end, was called upon to save but eighteen shots from the sticks of James Bay players.

Just barely crowded out of the spotlight by McKim was "pint-sized" Jimmy Pickford, the smallest and worked man on the floor. Pickford worked like a demon all night and rammed five goals past the almost unbreakable Bays' goalie. Wally Williams was trailed like public enemy No. 1 and failed to crash the score column once.

Chuck Chapman, Doug Bray and Ernie Pridham ran up a trio of tallies each for the winner. Bray, who raced through with less than one minute to go to give his team a safe margin of victory at 15-13, was had man for the evening, expending seven minutes cooling off in the penalty box.

The Bays spent a total of twenty-one minutes in the "hoosegow," and the Alerts, twelve. Hostilities reached the boiling point ten minutes after the start of third quarter. Alerts were leading 9-8, at the time, when Chuck Chapman was given a two-minute ticket for charging into Ian McDonald. Frank Doherty voiced his opinion of the referees' action and was ordered off the floor.

Art Chapman was the best Bay player to excite the wrath of referees. Brynjolfsson and Popham, and he, too, went to the rogues' gallery.

For a minute it looked as though things were really going to happen, but the arbiters managed to get control of the game and hostilities recommenced—the Bays with four men on the floor. Pickford charged Bray and he was banished.

Feeling was running high, but the Servicemen were unable to take advantage of their opponents' lack of man power, and the trouble and opportunity gradually blew over.

Opening at a rapid clip, the Alerts drew into an early lead and after the first twelve minutes were on top 5-2. Wallace flicked one past Gawayley to make the score 3-3 as the quarter ended.

Each side was checking feverishly and players were bouncing off the boards and the floor in all directions. Chuck Chapman made it 5-4 as his teammates played every man down in an attempt to tie up the score. Pater, who went down hard early in the third quarter, had to retire, but the Servicemen took up again, while McKim saved three scorers from in close. Pridham got away at the other end and made the score 6-5 for Alerts.

Coates and Wallace visited the cooler and Bickelger scored on an underhand shot from the bucket. Pickford denied the open net and his clubmates were on top 8-5, two minutes from half time. Bray beat Gawayley, but Pickford again sagged the Bays' help as the teams went to the dressing-room for a breather—the score, 9-6, in favor of the Servicemen.

Pridham and Clarke cut the Alerts' lead to one goal and, after the near fistuffs, Thompson scored for the blueshirts, while Art Chapman marked up another for James Bay. With five minutes remaining in the third period, Art again stormed down on Gawayley and tied the score at ten-all.

Chuck Chapman gave the Bays the lead for the first time in the game seconds later, and Bray hit the floor after running into trouble. Pridham put the city champs two goals in front, 12-10, as the period ended, each team with six men in play.

Bays looked the better team in the final fifteen minutes, despite the fact that Alerts had eight shots on goal to their five, and each squad scored three times.

Wallace picked a corner one minute after the breather, but Norm Coates zipped one close to the boards, making the score 13-1. Chuck Chapman scored and Bray was given five minutes for slashing.

Alerts were shooting wildly and vainly trying to get back in the running. The orange-jerseyed Bays were on top, however, and there they stayed as the crowd went wild, many cheering for the servicemen so that another game at least would be necessary. The teams each netted two goals in the dying minutes, James Bay finally emerging victorious, 15-13.

Line-up follows: James Bay—C. Chapman (3), R. Mason, E. Ball, D. Bray (3), L. McKim, R. Wallace (2), F. Doherty, J. Sargison (1), A. McKim, Clarke (1), F. Sargent, Pridham (3), E. McKim and A. Chapman (2).

Alert Service—Gawayley, D. Coates, Williams, Cockin (1), Langdon, Brown, Plater (2), Bickelger (1), N. Coates (1), Holyoak, Pickford (5), Price (1), McDonald and Thompson (2).

The teams left at full strength and are hoping to give a good account of themselves against the strong Vancouver aggregations.

On Monday, Thanksgiving Day, the Revellers will be at home to North Shore Lions, present Big Four titleholders, at Macdonald Park at 2:30, while the Victoria Soccer Club will entertain the North Shore Celtic at the Royal Athletic Park in another inter-city fixture, commencing at 2:45.

After splitting the first two games, the Cubs went ahead in the series today behind Lee's effective hurling and the timely hitting of Gabby Hartnett's men. R.H.E. Sox..... 100 000-2 8 1 Cubs..... 000 011-4 9 1

Werber Flies Out as Yankees Win

Bill Werber, ex-American Leaguer playing third base for Cincinnati Reds, follows through with a hefty cut at the ball, but it only went for an out—like most of the other cuts the Cincinnati players got at the ball in the second game of the world series. Monte Pearson pitched a brilliant game for the Yankees and had a no-hit game until one man was out in the eighth, when Lombardi singled. Werber got the other safety in the ninth.

Lefty Gomez Goes Against the Reds In Today's Tussle

Veteran Southpaw Will Attempt to Keep Unbeaten Series' Record Intact When He Faces Cincinnati in Third Game—Junior Thompson To Oppose Him—Yanks Hold Practice

By SID FEDER (Associated Press Sports Writer)

CINCINNATI, Oct. 6.—Only two games away from humiliating erasure from the 1939 world series, and faced with the prospect of meeting the third member of New York Yankees' dreaded "sore arm" pitching agreed to pitch them, despite a Yankee display of hitting dynamite at a lengthy batting drill in Crosley Field and the news that Lefty Gomez, injured over the left and right field walls, Deadpan Joe, the American League's batting champion this year, faced Spud Chandler in batting drill and whacked a fast one clear over the center-field wall, 384 feet away.

He exploded three balls over the wall before he was through, the last one landing on the roof of the laundry across the street.

The Reds didn't even look at their home field. Manager Bill McKeechie called them all to the park shortly after arriving, gave them a "skull" session in their dressing room for a few minutes, then dismissed the squad with a brief "see you tomorrow."

The fourth game will be played here Sunday, and a fifth, if necessary, Monday.

They cheered their heroes on with such figurative back-slapping roars as "you're home now, boys; let's go" and "we'll show 'em up out here."

YANKS WELCOMED
The Yankees, arriving only a few minutes after their foes, also received a noisy welcome, with the loudest recognition going to Joe DiMaggio, who hasn't been altogether a ball of fire at bat so far in the series; Monte Pearson, who turned in a two-hit performance in yesterday's 4-0 victory to equal the best elbowing job ever done in world series history, and big Charley-the-Red Ruffing, whose four-hitter Wednesday sent the Yankees off to a victorious 2-1 start.

DiMaggio, however, gave promise of enjoying himself during the games at Crosley Field, particularly over the left and right field walls.

Deadpan Joe, the American League's batting champion this year, faced Spud Chandler in batting drill and whacked a fast one clear over the center-field wall, 384 feet away.

Blue Bombers In Narrow Triumph Over the Bronks

CALGARY, Oct. 6 (AP).—Winnipeg Blue Bombers, staging one of the most thrilling comebacks in Western Canada Inter-Provincial Football Union history by Wayne Sheley's forward passing, tonight wiped out a fourteen-point deficit in the last half to knock over Calgary Bronks, 19-17, under the floodlights, before 2,500 fans.

Sheley, the former Augustana College quarterback, stood in centre field in the dying minutes of the game and fired a bullet thirty-five-yard pass to Captain Art Stevenson, who raced fifteen yards on a clear, hard turf for the victory score, just twenty-seven minutes after Bronks appeared to have the game tucked away. Calgary led, 17-3, at half-time.

GRID SQUADS PLAY MONDAY

Inter-Collegiate Schedule to Open at Edmonton—U.B.C. Challenges

EDMONTON, Oct. 6 (AP).—University of Alberta Polar Bears, determined to make a better showing than in the 1938 season, will leave here tomorrow for Saskatoon, where they open the Western inter-collegiate football schedule against the University of Saskatchewan Huskies on Monday.

Coach Bill Broadfoot reported his squad had improved 100 per cent since their first game this season when the Varsity squad was held to a scoreless tie by Edmonton Scots High School in an exhibition contest.

University of British Columbia Thunderbirds will not participate in the league, but will play a two-game total-point series at Vancouver against the winner of the four-game Alberta-Saskatchewan series for possession of the Hardy Trophy, emblematic of the Western inter-collegiate title. The Coast squad won the cup last year.

The Alberta Varsity squad, which has been working hard in practice since its unimpressive opening and Polar Bears are confident they will improve on their 1938 record, when they lost twice to Saskatchewan and once to British Columbia.

WESTS WILL WORK OUT
A workout of the Victoria West football team will be held at Central Park this afternoon at 2:30. All members and others interested are asked to turn out.

LAST-PERIOD RALLY GIVES COAST TEAM LACROSSE VICTORY

New Westminster Squad Noses Out St. Catharines, 12-10, in First of National Play-Offs—More Than 6,000 Spectators on Hand—Next Game Monday Evening in Royal City

VANCOUVER, Oct. 6 (AP).—New Westminster, B.C., defeated St. Catharines, Ont., 12-10, in the first game of the best-of-five series for the Dominion box lacrosse championship and the Mann Cup. The teams move to New Westminster for the second and third games next Monday and Wednesday.

More than 6,000 fans roared themselves hoarse as the Adanacs came through with a last-quarter drive that netted them victory in a nip-and-tuck struggle from the opening whistle.

In that final quarter the New Westminster squad, seeking to regain for their city the title won by St. Catharines last year when they downed Adanacs in three straight games, punched home four goals without a reply and wound up with a single score after St. Catharines had counted twice.

And all the final quarter scoring was done in the period's first eight minutes. From then on it was a battle by Adanacs to hold their margin as the Easterners poured in on attack.

CLOSE BATTLE
For the first three quarters the lead shifted back and forth as each team checked tightly. Only once in the first, when St. Kitts counted three goals before Adanacs found their scoring range, and again in the third when they led the British Columbians, 8-6, did more than a single point separate the two squads.

Harry Green, Indian player with the Athletics, scored the game's first goal after just under three minutes of play, and Joe Cheevers and Tank Feather added singles before Jimmy Douglas and Garmie Carter potted a pair for Adanacs. The quarter ended with St. Catharines leading, 3-2.

Adanacs shifted the balance in the second as they scored three times to one for the Athletics and held a 5-4 edge at half time.

Then the Eastern sharpshooters clicked off four points in the third, while New Westminster was held to a pair, and entered the final quarter with an 8-7 edge.

From there on it was Adanacs as Punk Kennedy, Carter, Jimmy Douglas and Gordie Saunders rattled shots in succession past Goalie Bill Whitaker in the Athletics' pipes. George Urehart and Gus Madson pulled Athletics up within a single point of Adanacs before Ken Matheson took Kennedy's pass to end the game's scoring.

Douglas, rangy New Westminster forward, who was presented with the Mattland Trophy before the game as the most valuable player in the Coast Inter-City League and the league's leading scorer, led Adanac marksmen with three goals and an assist, with Carter collecting a pair of counters and assisting in three others.

Harry Green and Punk Morton sniped two each for Athletics, and Gus Madson added three assists to his single goal.

SUMMARY
First Quarter—1, St. Catharines, Green, 2-5; 2, St. Catharines, Cheevers (G. Madson), 3-15; 3, St. Catharines, Teather (G. Madson), 9-0; 4, New Westminster, Douglas (Phe-lan), 11-26; 5, New Westminster, Carter (Douglas, Thompson), 14-37.

Penalties: Morton, Barnard, K. Matheson, Wilson.

Second Quarter—6, New Westminster, Saunders, 1-10; 7, New Westminster, Douglas (Carter), 4-12; 8, St. Catharines, Morton, 10-28; 9, New Westminster, Bradbury, 11-46. Penalties: Teather, Urehart, Carter, Fitzgerald, Matheson, Douglas, G. Madson, R. Matheson, Bradbury.

Third Quarter—10, St. Catharines, Green (Cheevers), 25; 11, New Westminster, Kennedy (Carter, Phe-lan), 1-50; 12, St. Catharines, Wilson.

ADRIAN QUIST IS BEATEN IN NET TOURNEY

Ranking Australian Trimmed in Straight Sets by Frank Kovacs

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 6 (AP)—Frank Kovacs, of Oakland, sixth-ranking player in the United States, upset Adrian Quist, Australia's No. 1 star, 6-2, 6-0, in the fourth round of the men's singles of the fifth annual Pacific Coast tennis championships here today.

Kovacs, who thus advanced to the quarter-finals, played superb tennis, and Quist was unable to cope with his wide variety of shots.

Bobby Riggs, ranked No. 1 in the United States, advanced to the semi-finals with a 7-5, 6-1 victory over Wayne Sabin, of Portland—Jack Bromwich, member of the Australian Davis Cup squad, defeated Elwood Cooke, also of Portland, 6-2, 6-2, to go into the semi-finals.

In the quarter-finals of the women's singles, Mary Hardwick, of the English Wightman Cup squad, eliminated Mary Arnold, of Los Angeles, 6-3, 6-0. Freda James Hamersley, also of the English team, was eliminated by Virginia Wolfenden, San Francisco, in a three-set match that monopolized the No. 1 court most of the afternoon. The score was 8-10, 6-3, 6-4.

Pauline Betz, of Los Angeles, defeated Valerie Scott, England, 6-0, 6-3.

WINS DOUBLE

Helen Willis Moody, former international women's singles champion, teamed with Harry Hopman, representing captain of the Australian Davis Cup team, entered the semi-final round of mixed doubles when they defeated the English team of Mary Hardwick and Charles Hare, 6-2, 6-1.

A minor upset occurred in the third round of men's doubles, when the No. 2 seeded team of Frank Kovacs, Oakland, and Wally Van Horn, of Los Angeles, were pushed out by the Philippine Island combination of P. Ampton and A. Sanchez, 4-6, 9-7, 10-8. The Islanders were eliminated in the quarter-finals, however, by Frank Parker, Chicago, and Charles Hare, England, 6-3, 6-2.

It was also announced that a scavenger hunt would be staged on Monday, October 9, at 9:30 p.m., starting from the stables; and paper chases would be resumed on the week of Saturday, October 14.

Rolfe Is Out at First

Red Rolfe, third baseman for the Yankees, had slapped a grounder to second just before this picture was taken, but Lonnie Frey, Cincinnati second baseman, picked it up and got it over to Frank McCormick, seen with his back to the camera, in time for a putout. Rolfe is seen just as he reached the base. Rolfe was unable to get a safety all day, while McCormick batted out two of the four secured by Cincinnati as they lost the first world series game to the Yankees, 2-1.

Lou Gehrig Appears at Yankee Park

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (AP)—A broad-shouldered fellow in a Yankee baseball uniform, with a familiar No. 4 on its back, slowly climbed the three steps out of the Yankee dugout before the second game of the world series.

From a distance, Lou Gehrig, who did so much for the Yankees, looked like a young man—robust and strong. But he grasped a railing to climb those steps yesterday.

It was the only time, in the past two days of series play that Gehrig, stricken with infantile paralysis, appeared on the stadium field in uniform. Perhaps it was the last time he ever will. Lou's contract is up this year and, unless the Reds win two games in Cincinnati, this series won't return to the stadium.

GRID FIXTURES CARDED TODAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (AP)—United States college football sends four standout sophomores into action tomorrow and, as luck and the schedule makers would have it, pairs them off into two of the day's principal battles.

At Evanston, Ill., it will be Northwestern against Oklahoma, and Bill De Correvont against Jack Jacobs. In New York, it will be Fordham and Blackie Blumenstock against Alabama and Jimmy Nelson.

All but De Correvont already have had their varsity baptism, therefore it will be De Correvont, the most highly-touted schoolboy player ever, who will draw most of the attention.

Peak crowd of the day, 65,000, is due at Berkeley, Cal., for California's battle with St. Mary's.

WANTS TO SELL SPOKANE SQUAD

SPOKANE, Oct. 6 (AP)—Pat Gilkey and Roy Hotchkiss, co-owners of the Spokane Clippers, of the Pacific Coast Hockey League, said last night the team would be sold "piecemeal" if a buyer for the franchise did not appear before Monday.

"We would like to see someone take over the team here, and we also believe the players deserve a break," said Gilkey, adding that eight men owned by the team would have little opportunity to sign with some other club unless released immediately.

WITH THE ESKIMOS

EDMONTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Eddie O'Keefe, whose services as playing coach were claimed by Edmonton Eskimos and Drumheller Miners of the Alberta Senior Hockey League, will don the Eskimo uniform for the 1939-40 season.

Edmonton's claims on O'Keefe were upheld by a vote of the executive, it was announced today by George Mackintosh, of Edmonton, president of the Alberta Amateur Hockey Association.

DETROIT, Oct. 6 (AP)—Manager Jack Adams, of Detroit Red Wings, announced today the sale of four members of the Wings to Pittsburgh Hornets, former International-American Hockey League farm team of the Detroit club.

The players are Pete Kelly, veteran Wings' right-winger; Harvey Teiso, former Windsor goalie, who played for a time with the Wings last year; Harry Currie, a forward, and Pete Besonne, a defenceman.

Zarry Aurie, once a star of the Wings, will sever connection with Detroit and remain as playing manager of Pittsburgh.

In place of Pittsburgh, the Wings will have two farm teams this season, Indianapolis, a new entry in the International-American League, and Omaha, recently admitted to the American Association.

War Stocks Rise To Fall Again in New York Mart

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (AP).—War stocks scrambled up at the start today, then marched down again as the debate over European peace prospects continued in Wall Street.

While some stocks retained moderate net gains, the Associated Press composite price of sixty issues was unchanged at 52.2.

Major commodities, which benefited most from the September boom, shot upward at the start with stocks in an echo of the recent war speculation. But the initial gains were partly eliminated in lulls.

Rubber, silk, sugar, wool and other staples, U.S. Government bonds came back partially from early dip and final bond prices were mixed.

Bulls on industrial and rail shares again had a palatable fare of business news. The chief item bore on expansion in the capital goods industries, although some analysts raised the question how long the boom in steel would endure if hostilities ceased abroad.

Fractionally more than 2 higher on the day were Union Carbide, Johns-Manville, Eastman, Great Northern preferred, United Aircraft, Sperry, International Nickel, Sears-Roebuck and Douglas.

Transactions increased to 1,326,230 shares from 966,380 yesterday.

United States Government issues closed 9-32 point higher to 10-32 lower today after a session of uneven trading.

Among foreign dollar bonds, Australian 41-25 at 63-12 lost 2-1, and Canadian 4's at 90 were off 1-16.

WHEAT FUTURES
WINNIPEG, Oct. 6 (CP).—Moderate strength at Chicago, together with the apparent opinion that Hitler's speech offered little hope for peace in the immediate future, gave wheat futures prices a firm tone on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today.

At the close, quotations were 1-8 cent higher to unchanged. October finished at 70, November 71, December 71-3-4 and May 76-1-2.

Cash wheat operations were quiet except for odd purchases of Nos. 3 and 4 Northern and Garbets credited to United States Mills. Millers showed a little interest in barley and mills were reported to have given support to oats.

C.L.U. HEAD VISITS HERE

Former Hockey Star Praises Work of Life Insurance Agents in Canada

A tribute to the life insurance agent as the indispensable factor in the sale of life insurance was voiced by W. C. Laird, president of the Canadian Life Underwriters Association, when addressing members of the Victoria branch at a dinner, held in the Royal Colwood golf clubhouse last night, following a handikap tournament played in the afternoon.

Mr. Laird based his talk on the place of the life insurance agent, not only in the life insurance world, but the importance of his work to the community. He pointed out that over eight billions of dollars of life insurance is in force in Canada, owned by three and a half million Canadians, and that life insurance companies have invested in Canada well over two billions of dollars.

DON'T BUY VOLUNTARILY

"This would not have been possible except for the life insurance agent," he declared, "because people don't buy life insurance voluntarily," stating that investigation had shown that the amount of insurance purchased over the counter was negligible, compared to the amount sold by agents.

The C.L.U. president arrived in Victoria yesterday morning from Vancouver, on his presidential visit to local members of the association. The association, which includes leading members in the insurance field, and grants degrees after three years' study and examinations, has a total Dominion membership of 2,800, divided into sixty-four local branches. The Victoria branch has about forty members.

Mr. Laird, who is district manager of the London Life Insurance, Toronto, registered at the Empress Hotel and spent the forenoon, visiting at the local London Life office, where he met J. E. Fuller, agent of the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company and president of the C.L.U. Victoria branch; Harold Winterburn, branch secretary of the Mutual Life Assurance Company and secretary of the association here; John Barracough, district supervisor of the London Life, and various other C.L.U. members.

INCREASE IN BUSINESS

Questioned as to the effect of the war on life insurance, Mr. Laird said that taking the Great War as a precedent, an increase in business might be expected. In times of depression and crisis, people take out an increasing amount of life insurance, he said.

"Never in the history of life insurance in Canada has life insurance failed to meet its obligations 100 per cent on the dollar," he declared, "and because of that the public have every confidence in it. The people look to it as the sole source of financial security."

The visiting insurance executive, who is well-known to local hockey fans of nearly two decades ago as "Bill" Laird, the brilliant net-minder who captained the Regina Capitals in many battles here against the Victoria Cougars in the old Western Canada Professional Hockey League of 1920-1-2-3, lunched with fellow C.L.U.'s at the Colwood clubhouse before taking part in the annual tournament run by the Victoria branch.

Mr. Laird left last night by the midnight boat for Vancouver, en route to his home in Toronto.

ASPECTS OF WAR SUBJECT OF TALK

Captain Elmore Philpott Addresses Meeting of Government Printing Crafts Club

The war situation, combined with the British Empire policy, was the subject of an address by Captain Elmore Philpott to the members of the Government Printing Crafts and Social Club, at a recent meeting held in the private dining-room of Terry's. Captain Philpott also dealt with the German-Russian relations, and at the close of his address answered several questions from the audience.

Preceding the address, a short business period was held, with the vice-president, Nick Robertson, presiding. During the evening Donald Nielsen was heard in piano numbers, including "Sonata in E Major" (Mozart) and "Old Vienna," and also accompanied Miss Phyllis Peterson, soprano, who sang "Over the Rainbow" (Arlen) and "Jeanie With the Light Brown Hair" (Foster). George Ingledew also contributed several humorous selections.

Charles F. Banfield, King's Printer for the Province of British Columbia, introduced the speaker, and R. D. Mylrea expressed the thanks and appreciation of the audience to the speaker and assisting artists. A social time was spent at the close of the meeting.
